

Many couples get a little overwhelmed when they are asked for a list of the family photographs they would like to have on their wedding day. We've put together a few lists for you – hopefully this will help plan your “must have” family photos!

If you can create a list with the names of those you would like to include that would be so very helpful! It enables us to gather them and makes the process so much faster. Give a copy of the list to each of your mother's and also one to your best man and made of honor (or someone else who knows the people on the lists).

Below are some of the most common groupings but variations may need to be added for divorced or remarried parents:
